

Open Letter to President Moon Jae-in of Republic of Korea (ROK)

April 24, 2020

H.E. Moon Jae-in
President of the Republic of Korea
Cheongwadae (Blue House)
1 Cheongwadae-ro, Jongno-gu
Seoul, 03048, Republic of Korea

RE: ROK's Commitment to the global fight against the COVID-19 pandemic in vulnerable counties.

Dear President Moon,

We are writing to you on behalf of the undersigned 147 civil society organizations (CSOs) / Non-governmental Organizations (NGOs) and 44 individuals from about 50 countries in the Asia-Pacific, Africa, North America, Latin America and the Caribbean, Middle East and the Europe region in regards to the Republic of Korea's commitment to the global fight against the COVID-19 pandemic in vulnerable countries.

The petition which started on 17 April continued till 23 April for a week to mobilize global voices of civil society and people all over the world.

First of all, we would like to congratulate on the successful management of the parliamentary election concluded on 15 April 2020 amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

It is not an understatement to say that the world was impressed and encouraged at the ROK's swift and democratic response to its COVID-19 outbreak. Through your administration's leadership, prioritizing free press, access to information, transparency and openness, medical testing and care for all, which are key democratic values, ROK has become a model in containing the virus without a lockdown or repressing civil liberties. The parliamentary election was another positive sign to prove that the coronavirus cannot stop democracy and human rights.

This leadership model and the prioritizing of people regardless of their background through democratic means has played a key role in creating a sense of solidarity and trust amongst the people, increasing cooperation in mitigating the crisis. The successful management of COVID-19 by the ROK, has proven that there is hope for a slow recovery. The international community has much to learn from the ROK experience and hopes for more cooperation in exchanging best practices.

We also note that you have put emphasis on the importance of international cooperation and made commitment to humanitarian assistance through the Official Development Assistance

(ODA) at the G20 Virtual Summit (26 March 2020) and ASEAN+3 Virtual Summit (14 April 2020) on the COVID-19 pandemic.

In the ROK's efforts to support and assist its global neighbors in the fight against COVID-19, we believe that civil society has the ability to play an important proactive role in delivering necessary aid and services, promoting public awareness and education, monitoring the government's policy and action on the COVID-19, and advocating human rights of the vulnerable and excluded people in society.

In a time of global crisis, public trust and partnership between civil society and government is essential in addressing the socio-economic impact of the pandemic both nationally and internationally in accordance with Core Humanitarian Standards (CHS) and human rights-based approach with the spirit of 'leaving no one behind' for the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

In this regard, we would like to urge your government to:

- 1. Continue to play a proactive leadership role internationally in tackling COVID-19 pandemic while respecting human rights and democratic principles.
- 2. Increase humanitarian assistance through the ODA to help countries in need, especially in the least developed countries and fragile states that are the most vulnerable in overcoming unprecedented global challenges.
- 3. Provide support – moral, political and financial – to protect civic space and to strengthen the role of civil society in tackling adverse consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic.
- 4. Take concrete actions immediately by providing necessary financial assistance to enable CSOs to operate on the ground to prevent and reduce human suffering in vulnerable countries.
- 5. Lead a global action on stigmatization, xenophobia, racism against social minorities and vulnerable populations like older persons, persons with disabilities, migrants, internally displaced persons, refugees, and indigenous peoples in the global fight against the COVID-19 pandemic.

We are aware that your government is still facing challenges in addressing the social and economic impact of the COVID-19. However, it is vital that the international community comes in solidarity and fight the battle simultaneously through international cooperation with the government and people in more vulnerable situation.

The undersigned, civil society organizations and global citizens across the globe, would like to take this opportunity to assure you of our full support and cooperation in the global fight against the COVID-19 with the Republic of Korea's leadership.

Thank you for your consideration.

In solidarity,
